Daily morocco vacation made journey designed by you

BEST PLACES TO VISIT

A dazzling and diverse country in North Africa, Morocco is a land where you can explore for weeks and never tire of. There's so much to see: the maze-like souqs of Fes, the blue-washed houses of Chefchaouen, the stunning sand dunes of the Sahara Desert, the epic mountains of the High Atlas...

Marrakesh

One of Morocco's imperial cities, Marrakesh is still considered to be the country's capital of culture. Its other buildings and medieval sights like squares, mosques, palaces and gardens draw visitors from the world over. The mixed influences of Berbers, Arabs, Spanish, and French have created a unique ambiance that you can still feel when exploring the city.

Casablanca

The Atlantic port city of Casablanca is the commercial hub of Morocco, but there's much more. It is home to one of the world's most spectacular mosques — the striking Hassan II Mosque, and an abundance of art deco buildings, the legacy of the French colonial rule. Besides, visitors can experience the city's burgeoning art scenes, and stroll along the lively corniche.

Fes

The oldest of Morocco's imperial cities, Fes once attracted scholars, imams and intellectuals. Today, it remains an important center of culture and spirituality and a fascinating place to go. Here you can discover the world's largest living medieval medina in the city center, walled and car-free. Inside is a maze of narrow, meandering streets leading to hidden gems including souks, mosques, and tanneries.

Chefchaouen

Chefchaouen, Morocco's "Blue City", is nestled in the Rif Mountains. It is most famous for its blue-washed houses and cobble streets against the breathtaking mountain scenery. Explore its quaint craft markets, sit at a street-side café, or simply wander through the streets at your own pace to absorb the unique ambiance.

From the Atlas Mountains to the Sahara Desert

Morocco holds some of the most awe-inspiring landscapes in Africa like the towering Atlas Mountains and the immense Sahara Desert. Appreciate the splendid scenery of peaks and valleys, ride a camel to explore the impressive dunes of the Sahara and spend a night in a traditional Berber tent.

UNIQUE EXPERIENCES

Mesmerizing Morocco offers an amazing variety of one-of-a-kind experiences, including getting lost in the medieval medina, surfing in Essaouira, touring traditional Moroccan tanneries, camel trekking in the Sahara Desert, sleeping in a traditional riad, and much more.

Wander Around Jemaa el-Fnaa

Jemaa el-Fnaa is Marrakesh's main square located at the heart of the medina. This is where you can watch drama in progress: story-telling, snake-charming, Chleuh dancing, traditional music, and many other famous traditional performances of Marrakesh. And if you get hungry, you are never far away from one of the square's numerous food stalls.

Surf at Essaouira

Reliable winds and excellent surfing conditions make Morocco's Atlantic port city of Essaouira a perfect surfing destination. Whether you are keen on surfing, windsurfing or kitesurfing, you'll have a lot of fun here. The best time to surf is in winter when the most impressive waves come and when you can meet surfers from all over the world to share the passion for this water adventure.

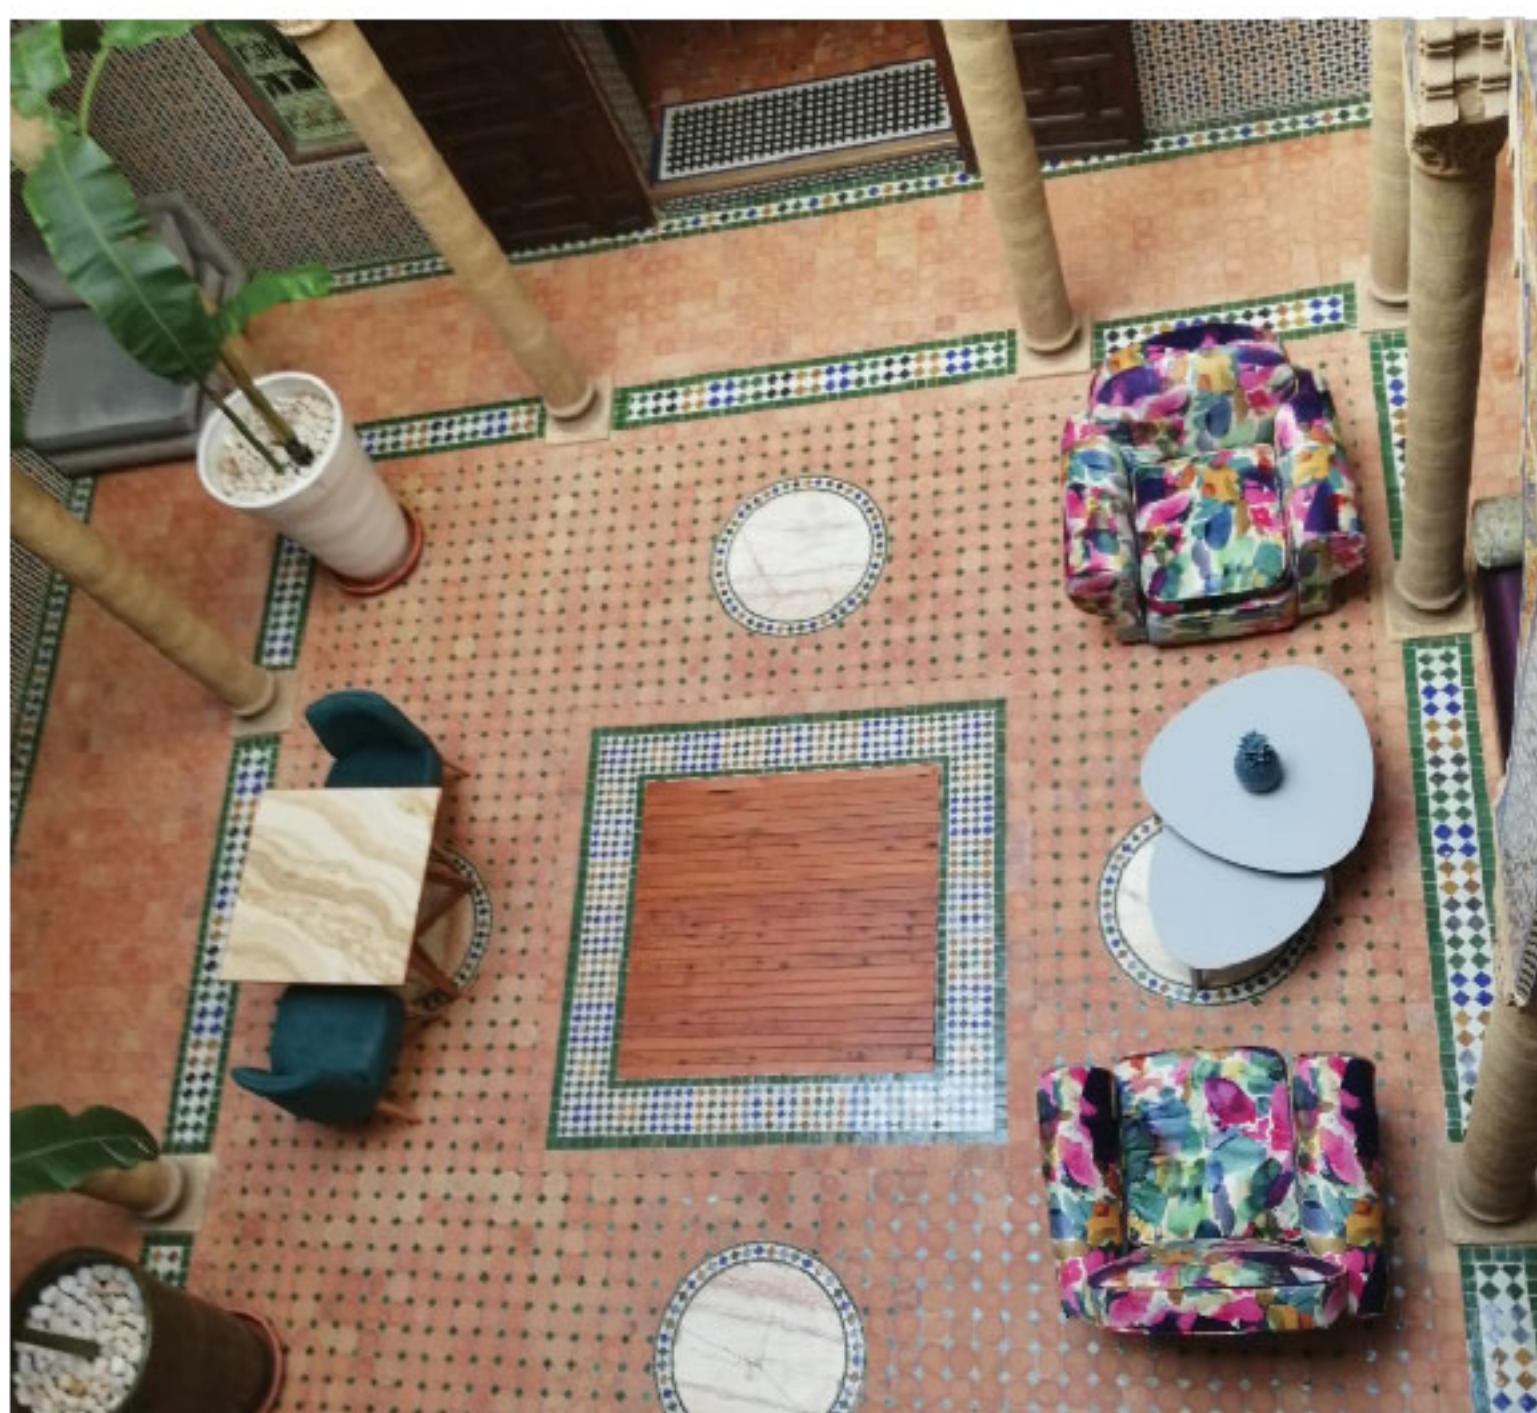

Visit the Tanneries of Fez

Fes is known for its leather products and most of them come from the city's ancient tanneries located inside its medina. A trip to the tanneries will give you a fascinating insight into a practice that has changed little for centuries. You'll see workers standing inside stone vessels filled with multi-colored dyes, tending to animal hides. What a sight to behold.

Ride a Camel in the Sahara Desert

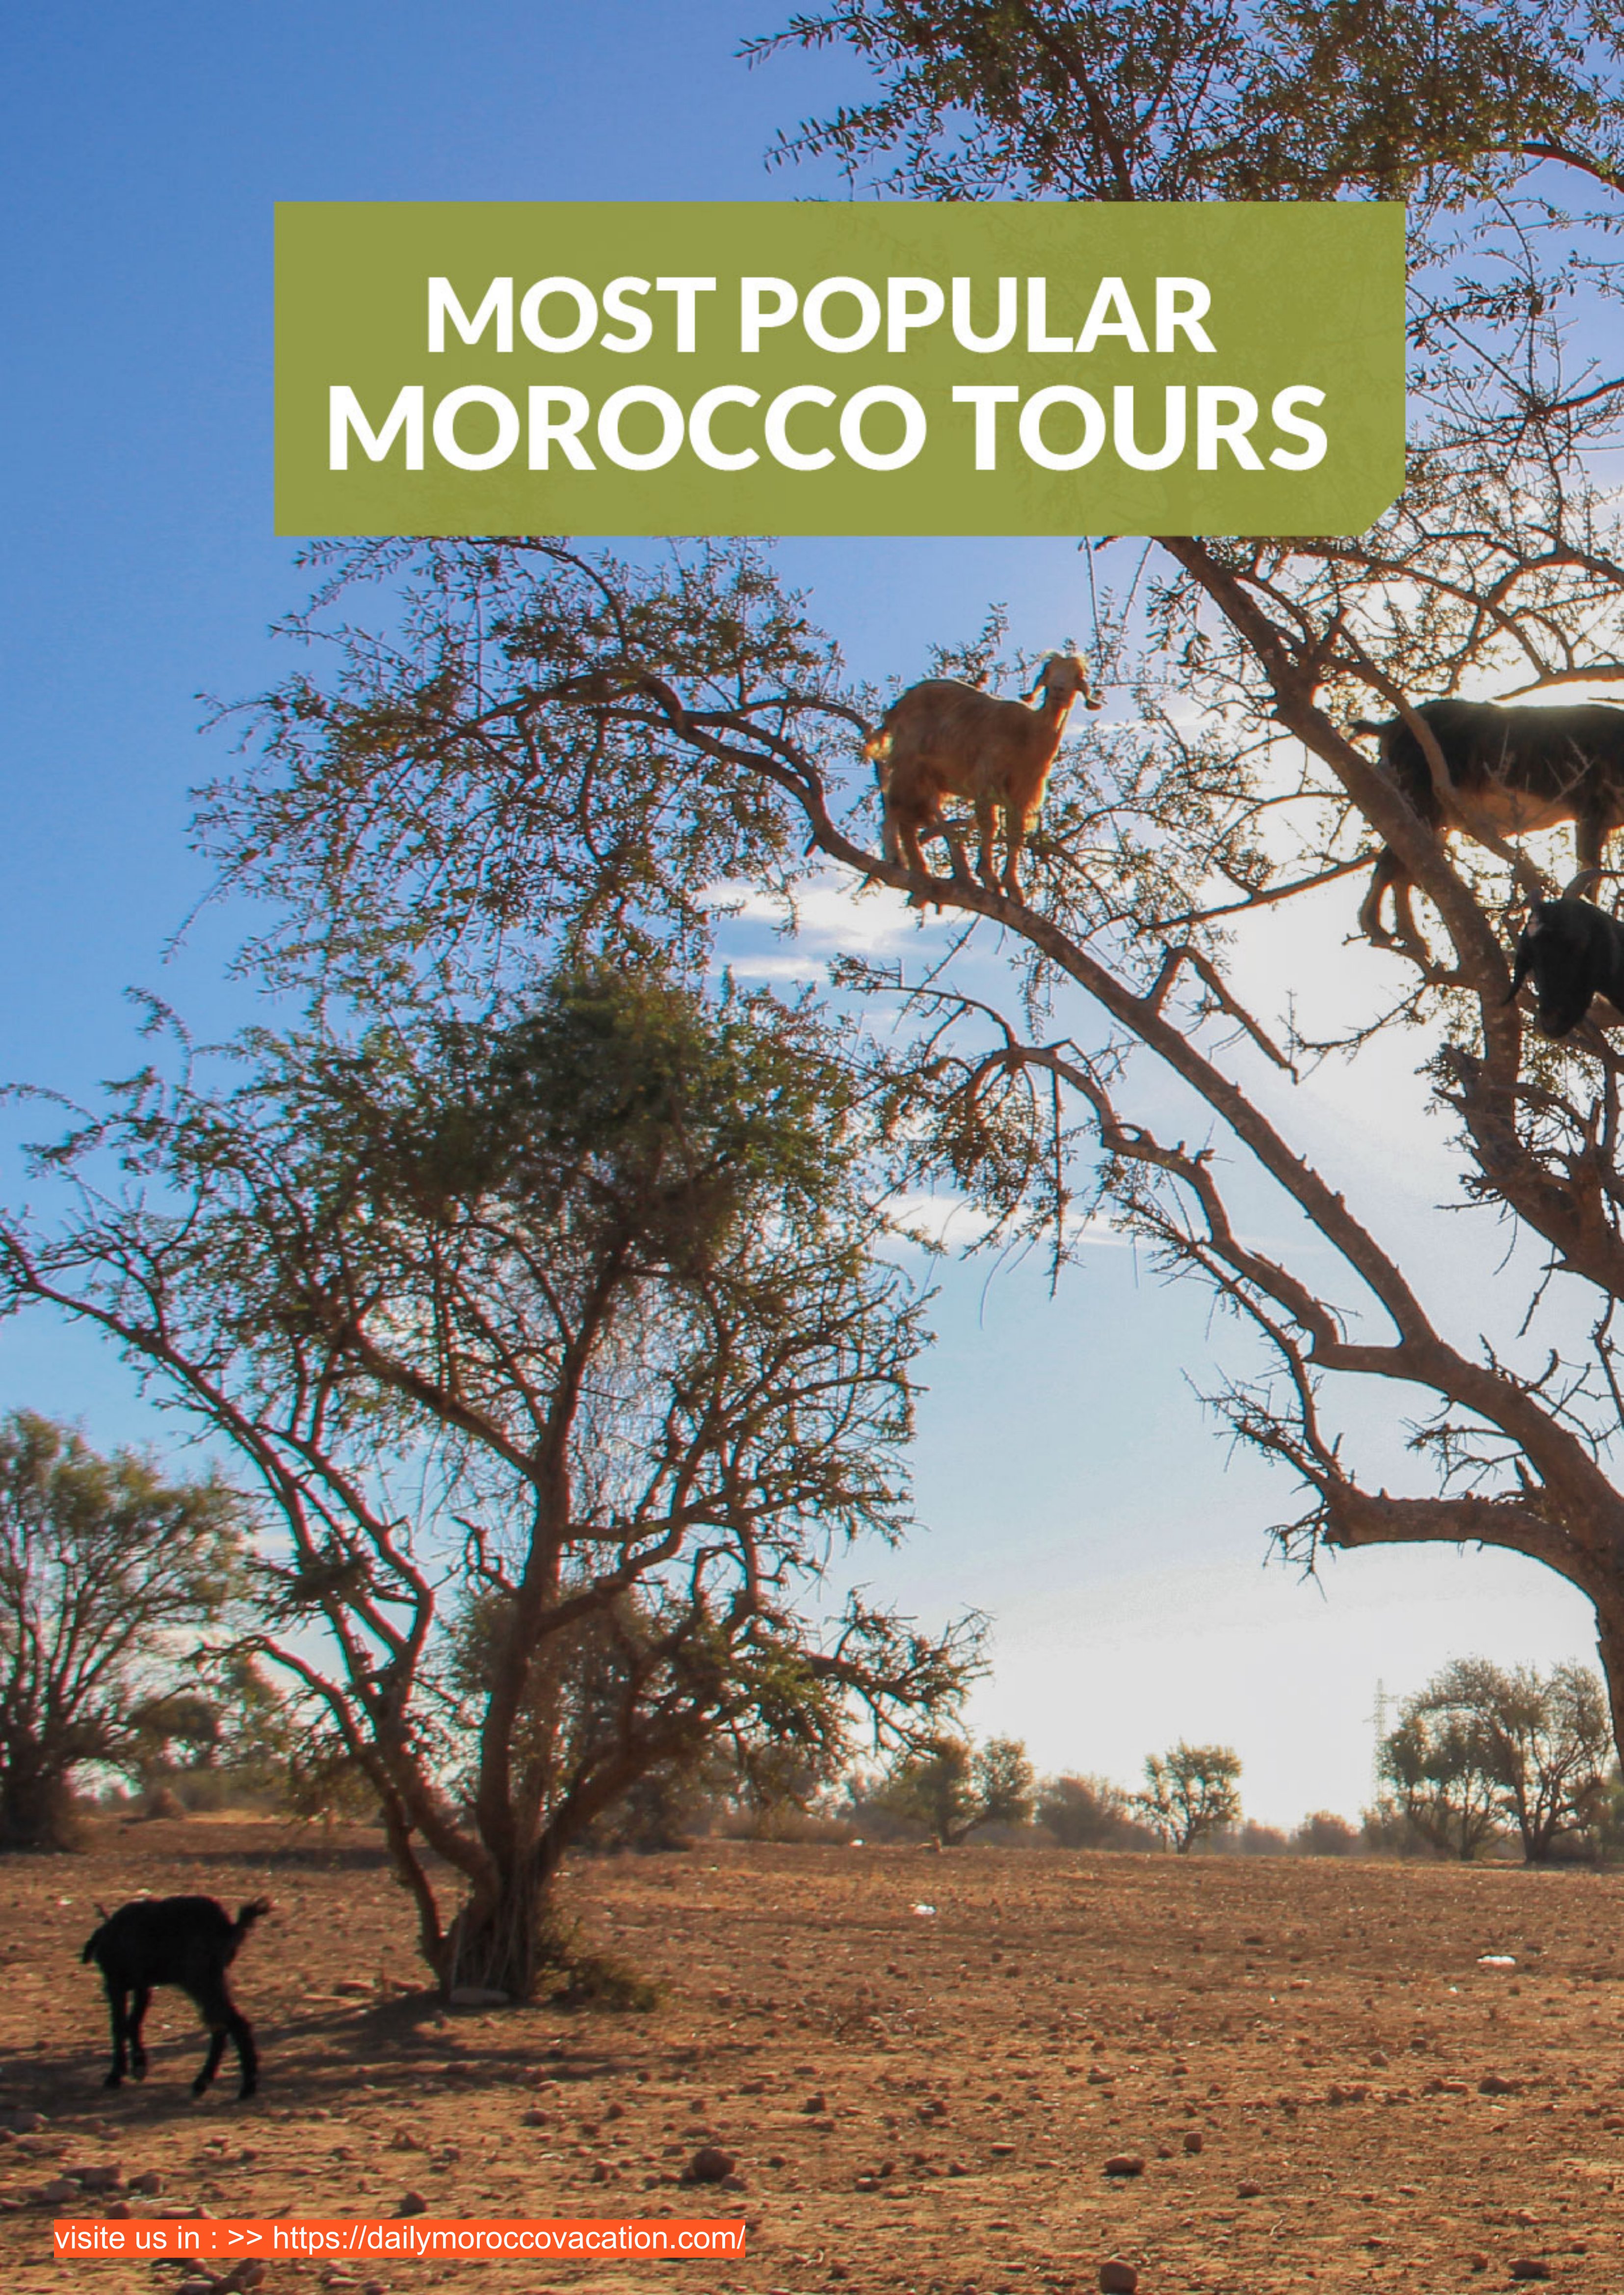

This is one of the most unforgettable experiences you can have in Morocco. A camel takes you to an endless sea of golden-orange sand dunes where you can relax and take in the majestic views of the desert. Spend a whole day there, watching the spectacular dunes at sunrise and sunset, and when the night falls, enjoy a freshly cooked dinner with a Bedouin family under a cloak of stars.

Stay in a Riad

Historic and atmospheric, riads are traditional Moroccan houses with an interior garden as the central element. A large number of them have been converted into guest houses, giving visitors the most quintessential Moroccan experience. You'll be amazed at colorful tilework and ornamental plasterwork on the inside walls of a riad and uniquely furnished rooms with woodwork and paintings.
